BEIJING (Asian Metal) 10 Nov 11 – According to China Automobile Industry Association, Chinese motor production and sales in October were about 15,700,000 and 15,24,700 respectively, down by 1.99% and 7.37% month-on-month.

The following chart shows Chinese motor production and sales from January to October of 2011.

Except for the influence of the National Day holiday, cancellation of favorable rules on the motor industry is still the largest block in October. According to the data, the production and sales in the last two months last year were high to 1,800,000 and 1,680,000 respectively. Considering the bad economy situation at home and abroad, motor production and sales are surely hard to see increases year-on-year in the coming two months.
